COUNCIL MEETING.

An Interesting Session on Tuesday Evening.

Council met Tuesday night, with all the members present except Mr. James.

The report of the Board of Public Affairs as Cemetery Trustees was submitted and approved. The expense account of the Board of Water Works Trustees was referred to the Finance Committee, to be reported at the next meeting.

Thurness introduced an ordinance to levy special assessments for payment of the Gallagher Avenue improvements. Some of the assessments are so large as to be burdensome; as, for instance, Kessler, $917.85; Gallagher, $878.89; and the Hocking Valley Rug Co., $472.65. The assessment is $3.67 per foot front, the abutting property owners paying 49-50 of the cost; exclusive of intersections. Payment may be made in thirty days, or in ten equal installments, with four percent interest on deferred payments. The Clerk read a communication from Auditor James L. Martin, advising that the several amounts be certified at once to that office, so they can be placed on the books for the June tax collection. Under a suspension of the rules, the ordinance was at once passed.

Mr. Angle, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported favorably on a small wad of bills, which were allowed.

The Street Committee reported the purchase of land for the extension of North Orchard Street, and submitted a plot of the proposed extension. The deeds were to be executed on Wednesday. The report was approved.

The select committee, consisting of Messrs. Thurness, Shaw and Weldy, appointed at the last meeting to investigate and examine the books of the Water Works and Cemetery Trustees, presented their report, which we print elsewhere in full, sets forth that the books of these two boards were found to be in a very unsatisfactory condition; that large amounts of money have been paid as salaries to officers not legally entitled to the same; and advises that the departments be thoroughly revised and renovated. The books of these two boards for the period of February, 1902, to February 1906, inclusive, were examined by Capt. Wm. M. Bowen, and his report, appended to the Committee report as Exhibit A, sets forth in great detail the discrepancies and irregularities shown by the books.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

The Floor of the Kitchen—Some Hints About Oilcloth.

Any good matched boards are good for the kitchen floor. Hardwood floors look extremely clean, but even with the best of care they become spotted and need an amount of scrubbing which is a waste of energy. Cover your plain board floor with any one of the numerous forms of oilcloth you may happen to prefer. A small pattern, closely covering the oilcloth, will show the wear less than a large pattern. Allow enough over to make mats to put in front of the stove, the table and the sink. If these mats are shifted once a week—the stove mat to the table, the sink mat to the stove, etc.—they will last much longer and save the permanent floor covering. When this shows wear and looks dingy take it up and spread it face downward on the attic floor. Paint the wrong side with two coats of some neutral tint and let it dry thoroughly. When put down it will be as good as new.

To Polish Mahogany.

First take out ink stains, if there are any, by touching them with spirits of salt. Do it with a sponge tied upon the end of a stick. Then wash the spots instantly with vinegar and make the whole surface to be polished clean with it. Then rub on the following preparation with a woolen cloth: Melt together in an earthen pot two ounces of beeswax and one-half ounce of alkanet root. Then take it from the fire and add two ounces of spirits of wine and one-half pint of spirits of turpentine. Polish with a soft silk cloth.

Calf's Foot Aspic.

Boil three calf's feet for thirty minutes, salt the water and when cold drain and cut the meat away from the bones in small pieces. Chop fine and put into a pot and cover with water, vinegar and salt to taste; add a bay leaf, a few round peppers and a few allspice. Boil all together for about twenty minutes, remove the scum that gathers on top, drop in a little onion, cut fine, and set away in a cold place to form into jelly.

Kitchen Hints.

Rub duck or geese with cornmeal after plucking to remove the down. Apples will not turn dark when pared if dropped into water to which lemon juice has been added.

Freshen stale rolls or crackers by tying them in a paper sack and putting into a hot oven.

Just before serving corn soup add a few kernels of freshly popped corn to each plateful for a garnish.

An Ivory Cleanser.

To clean ivory ornaments brush them with a toothbrush, which should not be very new, rubbed with soap. Rinse in lukewarm water and dry thoroughly. Then brush the ornaments again until the luster appears. It will be increased if a little alcohol be poured on the brush. If the ivory is very yellow set in the sun to bleach.

To Pickle Pork.

Four and one-half pounds of salt, one pound of brown sugar, one ounce of saltpeter and three gallons of water. Put into a large saucpan and boil for half an hour, skimming off the scum. When cold, pour over the meat, and let it lie for a few days. This is intended to corn a small quantity of meat for family use.

Cure For Rheumatism.

For rheumatism take a tea made from Virginia snakeroot, half a tea-cupful half an hour before each meal and before retiring. Five cents' worth of the root, it is said, will effect the cure. The tea should be taken as warm as possible.

Children's Raisin Pudding.

Mix together equal quantities of finely shred suet, flour, breadcrumbs and raisins, stoned and chopped; moisten with milk or with sirup and a little water. Boil three or four hours and serve with more sirup or with custard sauce.

Removing Rust From Steel.

To remove rust from steel rub the rusted part well with sweet oil and allow it to stand for forty-eight hours; then rub with a piece of soft leather and sprinkle with finely powdered unslacked lime until the rust disappears.

CONDENSED STORIES.

An Amusing Experience of Rev. Edward Everett Hale.

More than twenty-five years ago the Rev. Edward Everett Hale had occasion to visit the town of Hingham, and rising early the morning after his arrival there he started out for a walk. There had arrived during the night before a circus company, and all the residents seemed anxious to get a first glimpse of any one who had any connection with the show.

While Mr. Hale was enjoying his lonely walk he noticed a rather elderly woman walking toward him. She was very straight and thin and wore a checked gingham sunbonnet, and as she approached him, looking anxiously from his head to his feet and then back to his head, she asked in a nervous half whisper, "Say, be you one of the circus people?"

Mr. Hale, without hesitating a second, answered: "No. Be you?" Boston Herald.

MEN ARE ENTITLED TO EQUAL TREATMENT

By JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN, President of Cornell University

I BELIEVE that THE WEALTHY MEN of this country ARE NOT CONTRIBUTING THEIR SHARE to the government. They are not paying their share of the taxes. There should be some law TO COMPEL THESE MEN TO DO WHAT IS RIGHT, and the only way that I see by which this can be done is to add an amendment to the constitution.

WE ARE ENTITLED TO JUST LAWS. WE WANT EQUAL TREATMENT. I believe that nothing can be done better than put the honest men in offices of trust, on the bench and at the bar and also in business positions. We have been shown the LAX METHODS by which men in high positions have done their work, where they have MISMANAGED MONEY of the poor people who put their trust in them. They have BRIBED LEGISLATORS AND JUDGES. We are compelled to throw up our hands and say, WHAT MONSTERS THESE MEN, BANK PRESIDENTS AND OTHERS, ARE! The trouble, however, is with ourselves. We can remedy this evil, for we can elect persons to offices of trust—yes, even insurance heads.

The presidents of great corporations of vast wealth have both good and evil. Look, for instance, at the character of the millionaire or the so called billionaire. It often happens that THE MAN WHO SUCCEEDS LOOKS DOWN UPON MAN. He feels himself, it seems, a being apart from the mass, his brothers. The man to be respected is not the millionaire who looks down on his fellow being, but the man, THE AVERAGE AMERICAN, who loves his wife and children, his home, and of whom when dead his friends say, "He was a good man."

Our nation has stood for LIBERTY, EQUALITY AND JUSTICE, but the capitalists, the caretakers of these colossal corporations, think only of pushing the business as far as possible, of having the world for America, and the natural result is perhaps hurtful.

THE WONDERFUL GENERALSHIP IS HOW THE GREAT POWERS OF WEALTH ARE ORGANIZED. THE COLOSSAL ORGANIZATIONS OF CAPITAL HAVE MANY DRAWBACKS. THEY CROWD OUT THE MIDDLEMAN, THE SMALL PRODUCER, AND THEY DO NOT GIVE THE YOUNG MAN THE OPPORTUNITY TO STAND ON HIS FEET OR DEVELOP HIS OWN CHARACTER THAT HE HAD YEARS AGO. THIS IS DUE TO A LARGE EXTENT TO CORPORATIONS.
